Finding the way together

Practise polite questions and clear directions in English.

Good directions start from a known location. Short steps and landmarks help more than many instructions at once. Follow-up questions check whether the explanation was understood.

Now try it

1. Draw a simple map with a school, park and library. Label it in English.

2. Act out a conversation: “Excuse me, how do I get to the library?” Use “turn left”, “go straight on” and a follow-up question.
